Modes of MBA

Being one of the most demanded and scopeful programs, MBA is offered in many modes of education, some of which are mentioned below:

▶ Executive MBA

1 Year MBA ◀

▶ Global MBA

Part-time MBA ◀

▶ Distance MBA

Regular MBA ◀

▶ Online MBA

Online MBA

Online MBA is one of the newest and most trending choices amongst management aspirants. Naturally, it tops the menu of many universities and institutes across the globe. Online MBA is a PG degree in business administration of 2 years where one learns about essential business skills and management foundations through the fully online mode. Online MBA is one of the most sought courses by working professionals, students, and entrepreneurs. An online MBA brings together the flexibility of online learning and the comprehensiveness of a regular MBA to create a convenient but thorough learning experience.

Distance MBA

A distance MBA was one of the most preferred modes of education by professionals, and a segment of students who wished to pursue the course with time flexibility back when new modes were not introduced. A distance MBA requires the student to visit the institute for specific events like examinations, assignment submissions, collection of learning materials etc. It allows individuals to pursue the course from anywhere with flexibility.

Global MBA

A global MBA is a futuristic online MBA program available in a duration of 1-2 years that is more specifically focused on international management and business practices. This course is the most suitable option to consider for candidates who are interested in developing an international managerial career or want to relocate overseas for their professional pursuits.

1-Year MBA

A 1-Year MBA is an intense learning experience with the learning activities packed into a period of 10-12-month time frame. The past decade has witnessed the growing relevance of a 1-Year MBA for individuals who are fast-paced, have a strong quantitative background or wish to complete the course while working. Candidates with professional experience in a relevant industry are in a good place to opt for a 1-year MBA. The 1-Year MBA program is specifically designed for individuals to gain a comprehensive learning experience in a short period of time to enhance their management proficiency.

Part-Time MBA

A part-time MBA is a program that can be done in parallel with your job or other regular course by attending classes on weekends or evenings. It is a 2-year postgraduate program that covers all management concepts similar to other modes of MBA but with classes slotted in the evenings and on holidays, weekends etc. A part-time MBA course is suited for candidates from any stream of education. A part-time MBA saves a lot of time by adding on a master's degree in your credentials without a break in professional engagements.

Executive MBA

An Executive MBA, also known as EMBA, is a 15–18-months PG degree course which includes core subjects and topics to build managerial and leadership skills in already experienced individuals. This course is specifically designed for professionals in the middle and later stages of their career trajectory looking to escalate to senior managerial and CXO positions. This course entails extensive career escalation, making candidates eligible for top leadership positions as well.

Regular MBA

A regular or full-time MBA program requires candidates to attend 2 academic years of full-time coursework in the offline mode. It follows the conventional model of classroom learning with a fixed schedule, pairing up comprehensive theoretical concepts with relevant practical. This mode of MBA is often found to be very hectic by candidates, especially professionals owing to the strict deadlines of academic workload. It is best suited for individuals who are willing to devote their complete time to it. Regular MBA is also one of the costliest MBAs to exist.

Why Pursue an Online Global MBA?

Top 5 Reasons to Consider

Being one of the most demanded and scopeful programs, MBA is offered in many modes of education, some of which are mentioned below:

1. Equal Value as a Regular Global MBA

The UGC-DEB in India having granted an equal status to a Global MBA as a regular MBA program, pursuing a Global MBA has become even more appealing– it brings together the flexibility of learning of an online course with the comprehensiveness of an MBA course.

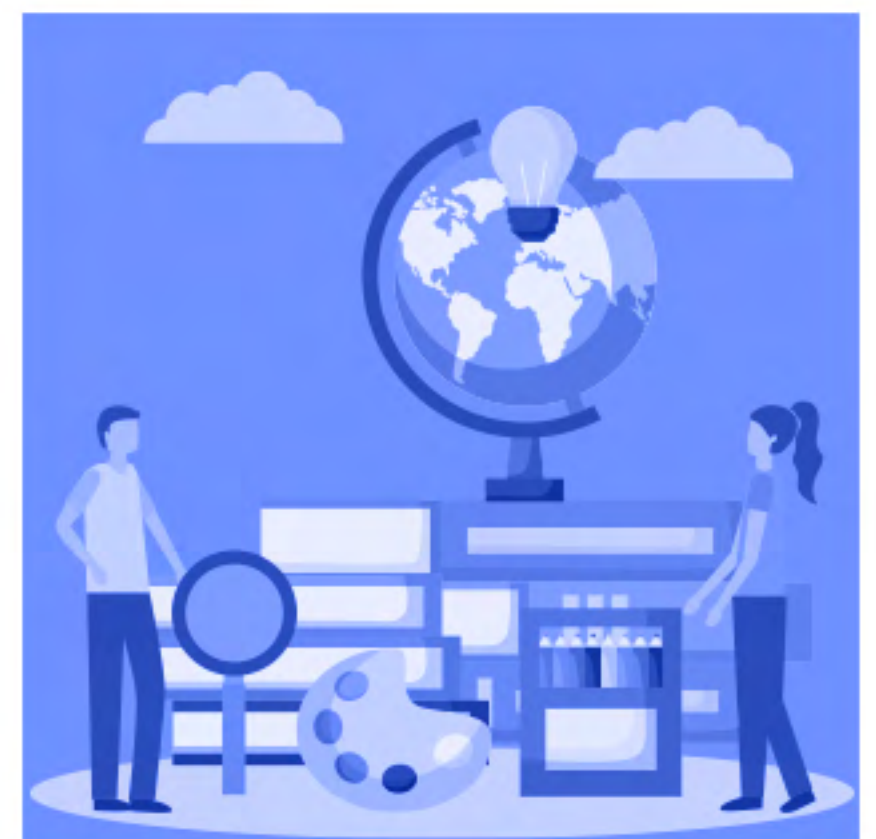

2. Cost-Effective than Other MBA Programs

When it comes to budget and financial constraints, a Global MBA is much friendlier on your pocket than other modes of MBA, especially the regular mode. With fees ranging between INR 1-3 lakhs on an average, it democratises access to managerial studies beyond those who can afford hefty financial investments into the course.

3. Learning at Par with Global Standards

A Global MBA seamlessly integrates the theoretical foundations of management with the prowess of practical skill-building through simulations. This makes a strong case for higher education at par with international standards as learning is two-pronged, both theoretically and practically-oriented.

4. Flexibility of Learning

The flexibility of learning makes a Global MBA one of the strongest contenders among other MBA modes. Be it the opportunity to access the course lectures and study materials from any location at any time, the chance for self-paced learning or the lack of rigid schedules and deadlines, a Global MBA has come up as one of the most viable management degrees.

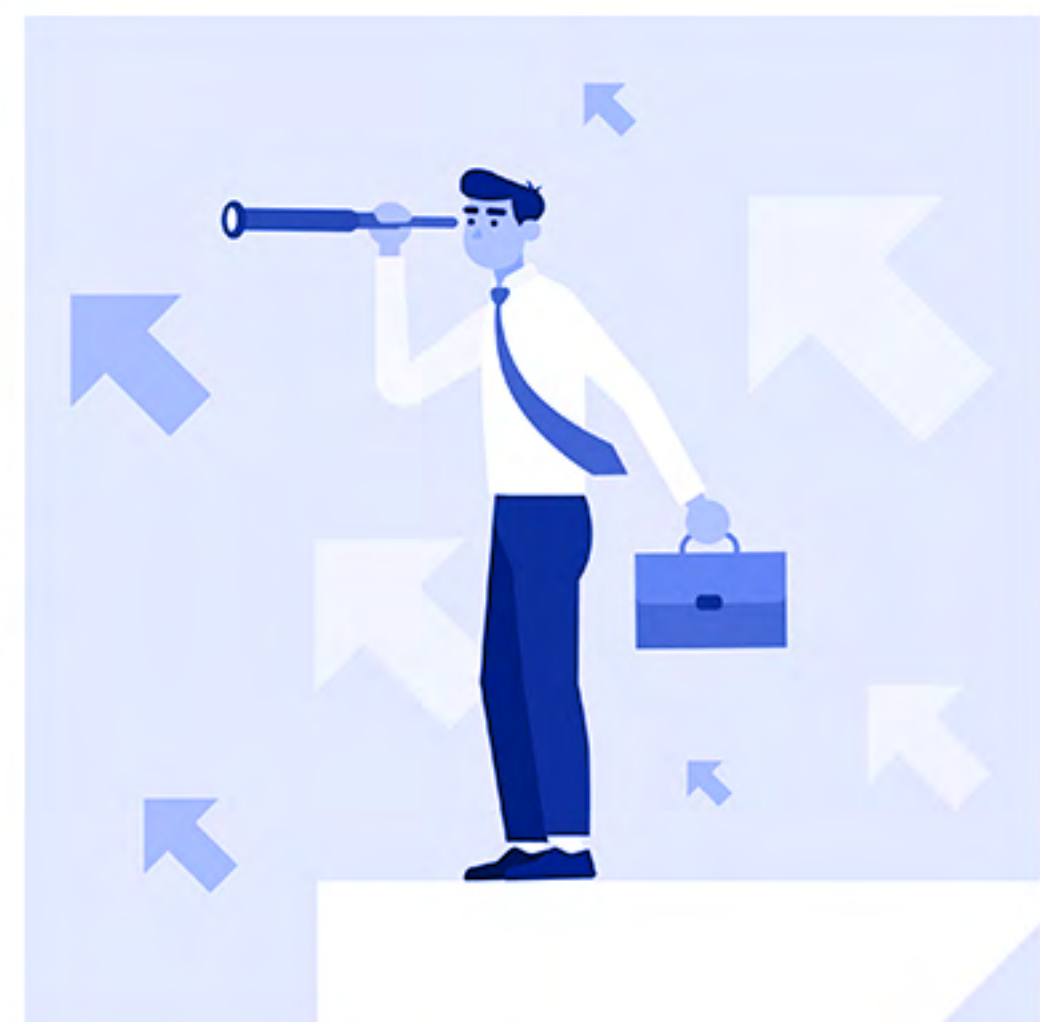

5. Exclusive & Dedicated Placement Assistance

One of the lucrative aspects of taking up a Global MBA include its all-round placement assistance. With dedicated mentors, professional grooming services and placement drives, a Global MBA brings a host of appealing job opportunities to the disposal of students during course completion itself.

6. Scope for Career

Lastly, the enhancement impact of an MBA career prospects of candidates are incontestable. With the flexibility to work alongside the degree, a Global MBA helps build a strong resume allowing for growth and career development, garnering further meaningful opportunities for professional exploration.

FAQs

◆ What is a global MBA?

A global MBA is an MBA course of about 12 to 24 months that is more specifically focused on the international practices and standards of management in the course content. A global MBA differs from a conventional 2-year MBA in terms of its emphasis on international managerial principles rather than a broad coverage of the basic foundations of management.

◆ Can I take up a Global MBA in the online mode?

Yes, a global MBA is currently being offered in the online mode by a number of Indian and international institutions. Hence, you can take the course up in the fully online mode as well.

◆ What is the fee for an online global MBA?

The average fee for a global MBA in the online mode ranges from INR 1,50,000 to INR 13,50,000 for the full course, varying as per the institutions and course duration.

◆ Is an online Global MBA valid in India?

Yes, an online global MBA, or any other type of MBA in the online mode (e.g. conventional 2-year MBA, executive MBA, MBA after diploma etc.) is valid in India as long as it has been pursued from a university/institution accredited by the UGC-DEB (or equivalent international body for international universities). Not only is an online global MBA valid in India, it also carries the same value as a regular global MBA program.

◆ What is the difference between an online Global MBA & a regular MBA?

The major difference between an online global MBA and a conventional 2-year MBA program is that the former is more specifically focused on the international and global trends, practices and principles of management while the latter focuses on the broader and foundational principles and concepts of management. So, while a global MBA prepares a student for the international professional world of management, a regular MBA prepares them by building a broad foundation of management.

◆ What is the minimum eligibility for an online global MBA?

The minimum general eligibility for taking up an online global MBA is having completed a Bachelor's degree from a recognised university along with about 2 to 3 years of professional experience in the relevant industry.

◆ Which is better, an online Global MBA or a 2-year MBA?

An online global MBA is a better choice for you if you have about 2 to 3 years of professional experience in managerial fields and want to upskill yourself to become equipped with international managerial proficiency. A 2-year conventional MBA is more suitable if you are a fresher or have limited (to no) professional experience as a manager and you wish to develop a foundational knowledge of management.

◆ Does admission through College Vidya charge more fees?

No, admission through College Vidya does not require any added fees or charges. The services provided by College Vidya are free of cost. Moreover, College Vidya does not ask for any payment to be made through our own portal—students are rather redirected to the official university website for any payments to be made.
